Words from the editor

By TCN Major Josh "Bad Penny" Lee Majors

It is common knowledge that D'sW is the product of hard work and diligence created from the ones who were privileged to keep their initial positions on-board Daedalus and didn't receive the transfer paper to another division.

Don't let me be misunderstood on this matter. For the past months there is a bitter taste in my mouth that I cannot get rid of it. Not because of the significant cutbacks on D'sW's budget and personnel. Mostly, it is because of this series of incidents which are pushing our morale to the bottom of the tub. The Nephilim wormholes; the death of billions from the invasions; the great Gemini immigration; the Argent FTL communications cutoff; the Kiltrathi invasion on Hawking and Argent and if I remove the "non-domestic" and "important" filters, this list could reach the infinity. Starting from the disappearance of the TCS Wager and Colonel Dillon's squadron to the destruction of three Hasley-Class Naval Bases, the one Midway-class mega carrier which is still missing, the destruction of TCS Mount St. Helens, hundreds of other TCN ships and the thousands of our TCN colleagues who didn't make it back home.

WHATEVER YOUR PLACE YOUR FUTURE IS BANSHEE

CONSTANTLY EVOLVING

Yesterday it was the Kilrathi.
Today it's the Nephilim.
Tommorrow who knows.
Constant development ensures that the Banshee will be ready to cope with anything you put in its way.

TOTALLY EFFECTIVE

A light fighter with medium
fighter's firepower and range
now includes a brand new sensor package by B&S. A combat proven design that would fit most missions a local government might need.

ECONOMICALLY EFFICIENT

Cheaper to purchase and operate than a Talon and more capable than a Piranha
the Banshee's value for money has no equal.

Still, there is an elite few of us who have decided not to give into the darkness of our situation...

On this month's issue we were obliged to cover a story that is “non of our sector”, again, but the second destruction of another Naval base within a month is as much alarming as our supply problems in ammunition and security personnel. The Nephilim war is a fact and although we are experienced from the Kilrathi war, still we have many of lessons to learn. Therefore, we are reviewing the analysis of the latest defense directions that the HQ has given for our Sector. Still, there is an elite few of us who have decided not to give into the darkness of our situation. The people from CIC celebrate for 18th time their birthday and we are invited there, too. Of -course, all these incidents couldn't have affected the world of sports worse. The three times SSGP champion Klaus Von Heidrich will not participate on this years GP because of the compulsory military TCN service he was forced to undergo as the sector's extreme defense measurements law commands. On page 168 you can read all the details from an exclusive interview with him in-person.

I've done my part on military journalism for more than 25 years. For the past years, I kept spreading the rumor, inside D'sW, that my successor will have the luck of stroke to journal in a galaxy without miseries, massacres or wars. Only a few months remain until my retirement and I want to apologize to him...

I was wrong.
