Colonel Halcyon's office. 1650 hours, $D.

Colonel: $N. Come in, I need to speak with you. Maverick: Yes, sir?
Promotion			No Promotion
Colonel: I've been looking over the performance reviews. I've been reviewing your record, and I have good news... Colonel: I've decided to promote you, effective immediately. Congratulations, $R $N. Keep up the good work. Maverick: Thank you, sir. I'll do my best.
Ejected From Ship
Continuing Conversation		New Conversation
Colonel: Good. Now, another thing I need to speak to you about...
First Ejection		Subsequent Ejections
Colonel: You're about to receive a Golden Sun for ejecting and surviving... But you only get one of those per career. After that, ejecting is just a waste of the Confederation's starfighters.		Colonel: That ship you just bailed out of cost over a hundred million credits. We'll have to wait until our return to Vega before the Tiger's Claw receives a replacement. Maverick: I know, sir. But there wasn't anything else I could do.... Colonel: If you have no choice but to eject, then do it... ...but don't let me catch you bailing out of a ship you could've flown home.
Maverick: I won't forget it, sir. Colonel: I'm counting on it, $R.
Continuing Conversation			End Of Conversation
Colonel: Just a moment, $C. I have one more thing to tell you.
Squadron Reassignment
Colonel: We're having to change some pilot assignments. Effective immediately, you'll be reassigned.
Killer Bees	Blue Devil	Star Slayer	Black Lion
Colonel: You'll be flying Hornets with the Killer Bees again.	Colonel: You'll be in a Scimitar-class medium fighter, with Blue Devil Squadron.	Colonel: I need you in Star Slayer Squadron, flying a Raptor-class heavy fighter.	Colonel: I want you in one of the new Rapier-class mediums, in Black Lion Squadron.
Loosing Path		Wining Path
Didn't Eject From Ship

Maverick: I'm curious, sir...why?

Colonel: We've lost pilots, $C, and a lot of fighters.

Until we have more fighters repaired and combat-ready...

...I have to shift personnel to keep the maximum number of ships active.

Maverick: I understand, sir. I'll do the best I can, no matter what ship I'm assigned to.

Maverick: I see, sir. I'll do my best.

Colonel: Good, pilot. I'm glad to hear it.
That's all, $R. Dismissed.

GODDARD

Goddard 1 Rec Room

Shotglass: Well, hiya, $C!

Things are happening around here. We've been making a lot of jumps. A LOT of jumps. You don't have to be an active-duty pilot...
...to realize that something unusual is happening.
Keep your ears open, and let me know what you hear, okay?

Bossman: $C! Sit down, have a drink. I was just thinking about a story I'd heard---
---about the Gwenhyvar, an Exeter-class ship that disappeared a few years ago.

Iceman's Alive

Iceman's Dead

Iceman: You don't really believe that old fairy tale, do you?

Bossman: I don't think it's a fairy tale, Ice.

Maverick: I've never heard this story, Bossman. What happened to the Gwenhyvar?

Bossman: Supposedly the Kilrathi captured it intact in dry dock, with all of its fighter complement and some of the crew....
...and they've used it to deceive and destroy other Confederation ships.
No one who's encountered the Gwenhyvar has survived to tell the tale.

Iceman's Alive

Iceman's Dead

Iceman: I'll believe it when I see it.

Iceman: Strange things going on.

I was on the bridge a few hours ago.

Tiger's Claw received a coded transmission...

...from High Command. The Colonel read it...

... and ordered non-essentials off the bridge.

Since then, we've been jumping like crazy.

Bossman's Alive

Bossman's Dead

Bossman: We'll know what's happening soon enough, Iceman.

Iceman: True. Very true.

Mission Briefing, Enyo System, $T hours, $D.

Colonel: Quiet, everyone. We have a lot of ground to cover. As you may have noticed, the Tiger's Claw has made several jumps today... ..because we've been temporarily ordered out of Vega Sector. Several hours ago, we received an emergency communication... .. from the Goddard colony in the Deneb sector. A Kilrathi fleet has attacked the colony, using some kind of new weapon. Unfortunately, we've lost communications with the colony. Now we're preparing to jump to Goddard.

Maniac's Alive	Maniac's Dead
Maniac: Sir? Does this mean we don't know what kind of mess we're jumping into? Colonel: Right. We don't know the full extent of the Kilrathi fleet... ..and we don't know what's happened to the Goddard colony.
Colonel: For now, NO ONE is to talk about this to the crew. However, we won't be alone... ..as we're scheduled to make a rendezvous with the Hickok. She's a Dilligent-class 'sport loaded with emergency relief supplies for the colony. Also, we rendezvous with the Marciano, a Venture-class corvette. Mission assignments Alpha Wing will patrol in Hornets...we need you in our fastest ships. You'll launch immediately when we appear in the Goddard system. If there are any cats in our vicinity, eliminate them. Then I want you to go to Nav 1 and scout for any other Kilrathi activity. Afterwards, proceed to Nav Point 2, where the Hickok is preparing to jump to Goddard... ..and provide support for her if the Kilrathi attack. Once she's jumped, go to Nav Point 3, where you'll meet with the Marciano. Escort the corvette back to the Claw, eliminating any threats.
Hunter's Alive	Hunter's Dead
Colonel: $C, you're wingleader, with Hunter as your wingman.	Colonel: $C, you'll be flying solo on this one.
The colonel moves on to the other wing and squad assignments. Your attention snaps back to him as he concludes.
Colonel: That's all. Ladies and gentlemen, prepare for launch.

Goddard B In the RecRoom

Shotglass: Hey there, $R $C! Can't offer you anything alcoholic, sorry. I heard you'll be flying again today. Most of the pilots are already in the Briefing Room already. I hear there's still no communication out of Goddard. But I'm hoping that the Kilrathi only wiped out the colony's comm satellite, not the colony. I've got a cousin on Goddard. Zach Siegler. He's a shuttle pilot. And his wife's a Chief Engineer. If you hear 'bout either one of them... Let me know, and I'll try an' get hold of them myself. But you better get to Briefing right now, $R.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D Heading to the Goddard Colony.

Colonel: All right, we don't have much time.
We're making full speed to Goddard.

And the crews are doing emergency repairs on damaged fighters.

Early telemetry indicates that no Kilrathi capital ships...

...stayed behind in the Goddard system, but we've had reports of some smaller ships.

Therefore, you Killer Bees will go search and destroy.

Scour the Goddard system, and engage and destroy any remaining Kilrathi.

Tactical shows bogies heading this way...fighters left behind to hunt for 'sports.

Hunter's Alive

Colonel: Kappa wing is $C and Hunter.
You'll start by going after those fighters.

Hunter's Dead

Colonel: Kappa wing is $C. I'm counting on you to trash those fighters.

Colonel: Once you've taken care of them, you'll swing out to clear our path into the colony.

Here's the setup...

...you'll jump to Nav Point One, where long range scans show something moving.

Delete it.

At Nav 2, you'll find a Dorkir-class troop carrier. They may be trying to leave the system. Don't let them.

When you've accomplished these objectives, return to the Claw.

Spirit 's Alive

Next is Maniac and Spirit on Beta Wing...

Spirit's Dead

The Colonel briefs the other wings as you consider your orders...

Colonel: Remember, there are a quarter million colonists in danger. Don't make any mistakes, pilots.
Dismissed.

Meanwhile...

The Goddard Colony: 2654.326 12:00 hours.

After the devastating attack by the Kilrathi secret weapon... all that remains of the once proud human colony are skeletons of buildings.
There are no survivors on Goddard...only wreckage and ruins.
Testament to the shift in the balance of power now held by the Kilrathi.

Border Zone

Border Zone A Goddard System, ST, $D. RecRoom

Shotglass: $C, I've been hearin' some bad rumors.
The Search and Rescue teams are back from planetside.
They were only on the ground for a few hours, and now they're not talkin'.
I can't get any answers from the bridge...
... nothing except 'Pipe down and do your job.'
And Colonel Halcyon looks like he wants to bite somebody's head off.
So if you get any news on what's going on, pass it my way.
See you later, $C.

Angel: Hello, $C. It was very active this morning, non?
The other wings ran into a horde of Krants and Salthi.
Mon Dieu, what a dogfight!

Maniac's Alive	Maniac's Dead
Maniac: I did so many snap-rolls, I'm still dizzy.

Angel: $N, I understand that we will be wingmates today. I shall see you later at the flight deck, $C. We will give the cats a run for their money, oui ?
--

Maniac: $C, it sure has been tense around here lately.
All the higher-ups have got their shoulders and teeth clenched.
More than usual, I mean.
I've been a little tense, too. Having some trouble sleeping at night.
I keep having this dream, over and over again. We're in action against the furbags...
And up ahead is the biggest Kilrathi ship I've ever seen.
All my guns are gone, my missiles blown, shields at null...
And my hands are shaking, shaking as I pull the throttle...
...'cause all I've got left is a mine in my belly.
So I go into a dive, straight at her side...the missiles are exploding like stars around me...
I hit the Kilrathi ship straight on---
---And then I wake up.
I know it's weird, but I can't stop thinking about that dream...

Angel's Alive

Angel: I think all of us are under a lot of stress right now, non? But we will survive this, mon ami.

Angel's Dead

Mission Briefing, $T, $D Goddard system.

The Commander is uncharacteristically silent.
He studies the papers before him, then speaks quietly.

Colonel: I'm sorry to have to report bad news.

The Tiger's Claw arrived too late. The Goddard colony has been completely destroyed.
A quarter of a million Terran colonists have been killed.

The briefing room is completely silent.

Colonel: We're still hunting for survivors, but things don't look good.

My condolences to any of you with relatives on Goddard.

We've tried to reconstruct what happened there. This is what we know...

According to black-box recordings of radio chatter and comm-sat data...

... the Kilrathi arrived at the colony five hours ago.

They brought only a small fleet... but they had some kind of new weapon.

Our best guess is that this was the first use of a Kilrathi technology.

Some kind of energy weapon, something that Goddard's orbital emplacements couldn't deflect.

The Kilrathi weapon wiped out the entire colony. Nothing was left.

According to Goddard's comm-sats, a single energy weapon blast registered on their screens.

That one blast destroyed the colony. And our current defense systems can't counter it.

We don't know whether or not this weapon will be usable against starships, but we can't risk the Kilrathi destroying another colony.

So we've been in jump-space communication with our High Command.

And our orders have just come in. Listen closely.

We are to proceed at all speed after the departed Kilrathi fleet.

And we are to destroy their vessels and this new weapon.

This means we'll have to FOLLOW their fleet into Kilrathi space...

...keeping a low profile for as long as we can. Then we'll attack their fleet...

...and wipe it out completely. And then get the hell out of there.

Furthermore, you may encounter some technical problems as we enter Kilrathi space.

Our lack of accurate star charts will play havoc with your on-board Nav systems.

So don't be surprised if Nav points, asteroids, or minefield information is not accurate on your Nav screen.

You must fly your assignments diligently. Follow your flight paths to the letter.

All right, these are the mission assignments.

All wings will launch to escort Tiger's Claw.

Then you'll fan out to clean enemy ships ahead of us.

Individual wing assignments...

The Colonel gives specific orders to each wing, and then...

Wingman's Alive

Colonel: Epsilon Wing will be $C and Angel. $C is wingleader.

Wingman Died

Colonel: Epsilon Wing will be $C.

Colonel: These are your orders, $R...

Once the area around Tiger's Claw is clear, cruise to Nav One.

And when that region is clean, return to the Tiger's Claw.

Good luck, pilots. Dismissed.

Maniac's Alive	Maniac's Dead
Knight: Let me tell you some of my own dark thoughts, kid. I've been watching Maniac. He says he's been having nightmares... ...and I've seen his hands shaking every time he climbs into the cockpit. I think Todd's losing it. He's always been on the edge, but this looks real bad. I'd keep a close eye on him, if he was my wingman. Otherwise, that crazy laugh of his might be the last thing you hear.	Knight: Good morning, $C. Knight: What do you mean, James?

Paladin: Genocide, lad. If we dinna destroy them completely, this war may never end.

...But what if we win?

Mission Briefing, $T, $D Heading into Kilrathi Space.

Colonel: At the moment, we're cruising deeper into Kilrathi space. And we just received a coded, tight-beam message from the High Command. They're sending a convoy to rendezvous with us. But these ships will appear back at the border...

...right where we had our last scrap with the furballs.

So I'm sending wings to retrieve it.

You'll return to that jump-point, destroying any Kilrathi that you encounter.

At designated jump-points, you'll rendezvous with the Sleipnir convoy...

...Drayman-class 'sports carrying a company of marines each.

As some of you may know, the Sleipner carries the Reavers...

... a division of elite marine units from the Scandinavian nations of Earth.

We need all the help we can get out here, people. Don't screw up.

Each wing will escort their convoy to a jump point in Kilrathi territory.

After the Reavers jump, then return to Tiger's Claw.

If we're lucky, this mission will bring us an additional benefit.

The Kilrathi might think that this is only an extensive border attack---

---and not realize that we're heading deep into their space.

Okay, individual wing assignments.

He gives the orders for each wing, then...

Wingman's Alive	Wingman Died
Colonel: Epsilon Wing is $C and Angel.	Colonel: Epsilon Wing -- $C, you're flying alone.

Colonel: You'll fly a straight course to the rendezvous point.

If you're jumped by any Kilrathi, don't hesitate to destroy them.

Rendezvous with your convoy at Nav One.

Escort them back to Nav 2, just this side of the hot zone.

When they jump clear, break off and return home.

The Reavers have their own orders. They're on a 'secret mission' as well.

If they're successful, we'll rendezvous with them later.

Dismissed.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D Kilrathi System Code-Named 'Midgard.'

Colonel: Good morning. There have been some recent crew reassignments...
... and I'd like to welcome all pilots new to the Blue Devil Squadron.
I hope you like flying the Scimitars. If you don't, I don't want to hear it.
And we have some real trouble. The Kilrathi captured a Confederation ship at Goddard...
...the Falstaff, a Drayman-class courier transport, which is carrying...
...information that is vital in our operations against the Kilrathi.
Weapons design specs, troop movements, tactical maps...that data could cripple our mission.
The cats are familiar with some of our security measures...
...Such as our rigging of databank couriers to blow when tampered with.
Odds are good that they're taking it back to their command center...
... so that their own techs can crack it without destroying the ship.
All right. Today's mission is to destroy that transport.
Now, we WILL be tipping our hand that we're actively following their fleet.
That's why we'll use a very small task force.
With luck, we'll be in and out before they realize they've been hit.
Two wings of Blue Devils will be performing the entire mission.
Here are the individual wing assignments

Bossman's Alive	Bossman's Dead
Colonel: $C, you and Bossman are Delta Wing. $C is wingleader.	Colonel: $C, you'll fly alone as Delta Wing.
The commander assigns other wings, then reads Delta's mission.
Colonel: Head for Nav 1, and destroy any Kilrathi patrols you encounter. Once you reach Nav 1, your primary objective is to destroy the Falstaff . Afterwards, head for Nav 2. We've detected a Ralari cruiser there. Eliminate it. And keep your eyes open for fighter patrols and escort ships, $C... ...because the Kilrathi will use every ship they have to keep the Falstaff . Once we start this, they'll know we're here. This is our one chance for surprise. Good luck, pilots. Dismissed.

Lady Luck is riding with us, though. The Reavers operating in this area...

...have captured an intact Dralhti class fighter.

They're flying her back to the Claw for our techs and intel boys.

There's a lot of Kilrathi tactical data in that ship, pilots:

But I will not think of that now. Shotglass believes we may fly in asteroid fields today.
I hope he is right. There is something I wish to try.
Have you ever seen Iceman in an asteroid field? No?
He does some amazing things.
If his front shield is gone, he will turn tail...
... and let his enemy come up behind him.
He performs evasive maneuvers and uses his thrusters...
... and sets course straight for a large asteroid.
At the last moment possible, he rolls out.
The Kilrathi does not always follow successfully.
Of course, Iceman prefers to do this in Hornets or Rapiers, not Raptors.

Angel: But we will survive, $C, and that is what matters.

Paladin: Pull up a seat, lad. Have you heard the latest from Tactical? They've finished their computer analysis of the Kilrathi secret weapon. There's nothing we can do to deflect that damned energy blaster---once they've aimed it at a planet-based colony, but at least---we'll nae have to worry about them using it against our ships. Tactical says that the weapon would be useless against fighters or a starship like the Tiger's Claw. That we'd be out-of-range before the cats finished priming it. That's a wee bit reassuring, isn't it? Those lads in Tactical are impressive, wi' how they figure these things out on their comp-sims. Of course, their guesses aren't always correct.... Like that time they told us the new Dralthi ships wouldn't have enough range to attack---the Epsilon Prima system. We lost five pilots because of that mistake. Tactical's usually very accurate...but I'd nae wager your life on that, laddie.

Shotglass: $R! Good to see you.

I heard about the Gwenhyvar. I never believed that old story, either.

Anyhow, you heard the latest news? Grapevine says we lost sight of the enemy ships. They're out there somewhere, and we can't find them.

We fly all this way into Kilrathi space, and lose so many people...

...and for what? There's no way we can afford to turn back now.

We'd better find those cats, kill them and get out of here fast---

---or we'll be as dead as my cousin, and the rest of the colonists on Goddard.

Hunter: 'ello, mate. Seen enough action yet?

Paladin's Alive

Hunter: I was telling the Old Man here that Zeta Wing lost a couple pilots today.

Paladin's Dead

Hunter: I was telling Shotglass here that Zeta Wing lost a couple pilots today.

Hunter: One of them just went bonkers, flew right at a Fralthi---

And went up in an explosion that didn't even dent the side of that catbox lorry.

If we keep losing pilots, there won't be enough of us to fly...

...and then it'll be over.

Paladin's Alive

Paladin: And I was just tellin' this haggis-brained lad...
That there are a few pilots in our OWN squadron that need new pilots' suits.
Good white ones, with extra-long sleeves.

Paladin's Dead

Paladin: Good to see ye again, lad.

Listen, do us all a favor, would ye?

A lot of the pilots have been hearin' that we lost the Kilrathi fleet.

They're expectin' us to turn tail and run back for Terran space.

Some of 'em are tickled pink about it.

Some of 'em are thinking about proppin' a gun 'gainst their chin an' pulling the trigger.

You tell 'em it's all damned foolishness.

Colonel Halcyon is a very canny man, the best in the space navy.

If anyone can find the Kilrathi, he can.

So if anyone asks you, this is what you should tell them:

This operation isn't over, and we haven't lost it yet.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D, somewhere in Kilrathi open space.

Colonel: Pilots, we have trailed our target to this system.

We're not sure of the location of the Kilrathi fleet with the secret weapon, but we know they're in the area.

The fleet is probably going to call for reinforcements. Probably Fralthi, with destroyer escorts.

Two Fralthi with additional heavy ships, if they know where to catch us...

... will reduce Tiger's Claw to molten slag.

Personally, I'd prefer not to command a slagged ship.

So we're going to have to launch an attack on them very, very soon.

We don't know exactly where they are. But we do have some good data....

The ships in this strike fleet were designed to be fast and maneuverable. Which means they aren't carrying much fuel.

This means that they're probably headed towards...any guesses, pilots?

Maverick: A supply depot, sir?

Colonel: Tactical agrees with you on that guess, $C. That's where we think their fleet is headed.

We're going to get to the supply depot first and take it out.

You're going to fly scouting missions. With the information you'll bring back...

...we should be able to locate the supply depot.

Here's the setup. Make sure you scout each of these Nav points.

Just follow your mission flight plans; engage the enemy if you find him.

But back down from overwhelming opposition. We need the information more than we need a few dead heroes.

We also have unconfirmed reports of a large ship of an unknown Kilrathi design type.

This ship will register as a blue target, until we can update your targeting computers.

But it's definitely one of theirs. Get camera information on it, if you can.

You listen as the commander explains mission assignments.

But if we destroy the Kilrathi fleet and their secret weapon, I will celebrate.
I will get very drunk, and swear quite loudly, and act much like Maniac or Hunter.
At least for an hour or two.
Or maybe not. What if my fiancée were to learn of such behavior?

And we've pinpointed the quadrant of the Kilrathi supply depot. Your mission is simple and strategic... Go to Nav 1 and Nav 2. Eliminate any inbound Kilrathi warships... Then head for the depot at Nav 3. Destroy it, and return to Tiger's Claw. But be careful. You can bet your lives that the depot will be guarded.

Now... now, the pilots have hope. Hope that maybe we can win.
That's what they needed.

Bossman: $C! Any bets on which one of us is going to bag the ship with the Kilrathi secret weapon?
That'll be something to have on your permanent record.
'So-and-so of Tiger's Claw is credited with the kill...

I just hope that our boys in Tactical get a clean view on the kill.
I'd hate to ship with a carrier-load of pilots...
... all of whom think they'd put in the final missile!

Iceman: Sit down, $C.
It's coming down to the wire.
The enemy fleet is going to head straight to us now, right into our trap.
I want that ship with the secret weapon, the one that destroyed Goddard.
If we're wingmates on the strike against that ship...
... don't get between me and her.
That ship is going down, no matter what.
No matter what.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D. Site of the Destroyed Kilrathi Supply Depot.

Colonel: Two Killer Bees captured a Kilrathi courier ship yesterday, when we were attacking the supply depot.

We now have a schematic, less than two days old...

... of the Kilrathi strike patrol assignments in Vega Sector.

What this means is that if we do manage to get back home safely...

... we're going to be able to nail those cats in Vega Sector.

A round of applause and cheers echo through the briefing room.

The other news is that the Bees identified the Kilrathi ship with the secret weapon...

...a super-dreadnought, which we've code-named the Sivar.

This may be the same ship that was sighted by our pilots, not far from our own position.

That ship will be our main target, pilots. We're going to lure her to this location...

And destroy her completely, AND the Kilrathi secret weapon.

But now we need to concentrate on today's mission.

The Tiger's Claw is now positioned where the base station was.

This means that we're probably going to intercept some incoming ships.

Now, a lot of them will be short on fuel, or in desperate need of repairs.

But we can't bet that any ship coming in will be an easy kill.

And we can't AFFORD for any of them to tell the Sivar that we're here.

So shoot to kill, pilots. Ignore ALL radio communications from the Kilrathi.

They can send out an emergency beacon to the Sivar...

... while they stay on the horn with you, pretending to negotiate.

More good news You've been reassigned to Rapiers for this mission.

Iceman's Alive

Colonel: You're running a Comet-Style Patrol mission. Remember those?

Launch, then move out to 1500 clicks and circle the Tiger's Claw...

... a few times. If you see any cats, attack and destroy.

When you're sure the area is clear, run out to Nav One.

This area is one of the closest jump points...

... and we can expect some incoming Kilrathi to pop up here.

Shoot over to Nav 2 next, clear it of bogies, and head for Nav 3.

Once you've eliminated any enemy forces there, return to the Claw.

Immediately upon your return, Epsilon will launch and head to Nav One.

In other words, we're doing a constant rotation of wings.

Until we know where the enemy is coming from, these Nav points will be under constant observation.

Shotglass: You look like you're havin' a good day, $C.
'Course, knowing that the Sivar is sitting out there, running out of power...well, it helps. Scuttlebutt has it that we're just about ready to go for the kill. I hope that we get that shot soon...for Zach and Trisha. Ah, but waiting's always the worst part...Bottoms up, $C.

Knight: Hey, $C. I heard that you just got assigned to the Black Lion squadron. That means you'll be flying with me. Let's be careful out there, okay? Well, I just hope that we're going after that dreadnought soon. We're so deep into enemy territory, so far from our own lines... ..the Sivar's not the only one who can't resupply.

Iceman: Good job out there against the furballs, kid. We'll go for the big one, real soon now. Remember missiles. Don't use 'em up too fast, kid. Your guns will sting, and take out the smaller targets for you... ..but there's nothing like a missile to finish the job.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D. Unknown sector named 'Uigrid'.

Colonel: Attention! We need to get everyone on the flightline, fast. Our tactical data has pinpointed the Sivar...and the Kilrathi know where we are. They're sending a massive strike against the Tiger's Claw. It will be all hands on deck...and in space. Here's the setup...

Sensors show a large strike force massing at Nav 1.

Our guess is that they'll have at least one heavy ship, with multiple fighters.

Whatever's there, it has to be stopped before it jumps to our position.

When you're sure the area is clear, head back to the Claw.

Knight's Alive	Knight's Dead
Colonel: $C and Knight get the duty. Your designation is Omicron Wing.	Colonel: $C, you'll have to do this one your own. I can't spare anyone to help you.
The Colonel assigns all other wings to other jumpoints, forming a shield around the 'Claw'.
Colonel: Questions? All right, then...keep alert, and don't make any mistakes. Dismissed.

Maverick: Yes, sir. I launched and ran out to Nav 1 to engage the strike force. When I first arrived, it didn't seem all that bad...just a Ralari with Jalthi. I should have guessed that another wing was on its way in. Colonel: Fine. Did you trash the Ralari or not?
Ralari's Destroyed	Ralari Escapes
Maverick: Yes, sir, I did.	Maverick: No, sir, I didn't. Colonel: I see. Just so you know, I diverted Maniac and Beta Wing to fix your mistake.

Shotglass: Hey there, $C! Hurry up and get to the Briefing Hall. It's time to finish this pleasure cruise, one way or the other. Best of luck to you, $R $N!

Bossman: Good day, $C. I'm glad to talk to someone besides our resident lunatics. I've been writing a letter home...just in case we don't make it back. Have you seen the latest holopics of my family, $C?

Maverick: No, Boss...can't say that I have.

Bossman: I'd like to show them to you later. I miss them very much. I hope that this mission ends soon, so we can return to Vega.

Maniac: Hey there, $C. I'm sure that I'll be flying against the Sivar soon. In case I don't succeed...you'll have to take out that ship for me. I know that I'll be the one to do it. Just like in my dream... But if I die too quickly, then it's up to you, $C. Use your missiles first. But if nothing else works, I want you to hit them at ramming speed. Just in case, y'know?

Mission Briefing, $T, $D. Unknown sector named 'Uigrid'.

Colonel: Everyone present? Good.

We're now ready to go after the Sivar.

This is the best shot we'll get at her, so let's make it count.

I've had difficulty deciding which pilot I should send first...

...because they're likely to meet the greatest resistance.

After our first strike launches, the Claw will move to a new vantage point...

...where we will launch the remaining wings.

With any luck, the Sivar won't expect attack from two separate vectors.

All through this mission, the Sivar's been escorted by a substantial fleet.

We've picked off that fleet, ship by ship....

But we can't be sure we've nailed all of them. So be VERY careful out there.

Now, listen up. We've lost a lot of good people, during this operation...

...I don't want to lose any more. On this mission---

Hunter's Alive	Hunters Dead

Paladin: Are you just sayin' that so you can get drunk at my retirement party, sir?
Iceman's Alive	Iceman's Dead
Colonel: Iceman... uh... just do what you always do. Iceman: Forget the goodbyes, sir. Let's get this show on the road.
Colonel: $C, no astrobatics, nothing fancy. Do the job and get out of there alive. Maverick: Aye, aye, sir.
You consider what the Commander said. He was saying goodbye to the pilots... just in case.
Knight's Alive	Knight's Dead
Colonel: $C! You're teamed with Knight again, as Omega Wing.	Colonel: $C You're Omega Wing. Now that we've lost Knight... ... I'm counting on you to come through for us. I won't let you down, sir.
Colonel: Here's the scenario. Head first to Nav 1. Try to destroy any of the remaining support fleet. They are NOT your main objective, though...that's the Sivar , at Nav Two. If you are able to destroy the Sivar , hit your afterburners and come home. Rendezvous with the Tiger's Claw at Nav 3. Questions? No? Good luck, $C. We'll see you at Nav 3. The Sivar had a strong fighter escort. My guess is that the heavier ships ... have already maneuvered out of system. Maybe they thought they could intercept the Tiger's Claw and prevent our strike.	Colonel: No kill, $C. And the Sivar's sure to have reinforcements and supply coming in. So we're bugging out, and bugging out empty. After all this time, all the pilots who died... we're running away.

Winning Path

In the Throne Chamber of the Emperor of Kilrah...

...the former Grand Admiral of the Kilrathi Empire stands before his master. There is nothing to be said. The Admiral is loyal to Kilrah, and his Emperor --- ---and he knows the price of his failure. His Emperor has demanded an apology for the defeat of the Kilrathi strike fleet... ...And an apology must be given. An echo of the Admiral's dying scream lingers in the air... ...then silence.

Loosing Path

The Kilrathi Slave Mines.

With the retreat of the Tiger's Claw and the failure of her mission, the Kilrathi use their new weapon to establish dominance over Confederate defenders. Thousands of Humans are enslaved and taken to the Kilrathi Illudium mines, forced to work in misery until dying from the radiation in the ore... their toil fuelling the Kilrathi advance toward the Human homeworlds.

Retreat A

$T, $D. Retreating from Kilrathi Territory

RecRoom

Shotglass: $C How's it goin'?

I can't believe we're pullin' out. We never finished our job.
We're just letting the people at Goddard die for nothing. NOTHING
Old Man Halcyon better not walk through here...I'd tell him to...
...oh, what's the use? We did all we could to win.
I just hate losing to those fleabags.

Angel: Bonjour, $C. I am very upset about our defeat.

Up to this point, we had been pressing the attack...
...and now we run like frightened children.
I have spoken with the Colonel about our chances of surviving our retreat.
And the odds do not favor us. Mon Dieu, I have never felt so helpless.
I only wish that I had done more to help our chances.

Spirit: Hello, $C. Will you join me?

I am trying to console Jeanette, but she is most adamant in her anger.
Everywhere I go, there is only talk of failure and defeat.
We have not lost the war yet, only this one operation has failed.
I cannot believe that we will bow our heads to the Kilrathi ever.
Keep that close to your heart, $C. It will give you inner strength.

Mission Briefing, $T, $D. Retreating from Kilrathi Territory

Colonel: All right, everyone. Listen up and listen good. As you know, our failure to achieve success against the Kilrathi...
...has necessitated our withdrawal from Kilrathi space. We have to assume that the Kilrathi will pursue and attempt to destroy us. The most likely scenario involves a strike against the Claw near the border. This gives them the most time to prepare for our arrival. If we can disrupt their scouts enough, we just might avoid their main retaliatory forces. Okay, here's your assignments. You'll fly to each of the three Nav points. ...with the goal of destroying any Kilrathi you encounter. Remember, this is our only plan to get us out alive.

You wait until your name is called.
