Congratulations to all of you!

Wing Prophecy is a fabulous game, and it will be in the stores for Christmas!

This is an amazing achievement and should take a minute to just stare out the window, smile, and let it all soak in. In just a few short weeks the accolades from the public will start pouring in and the sense of accomplishment will finally hit home. Until then, enjoy and get some rest. You all certainly have earned the respect of the entire company. Well done!
