{7} TOP-SELLING PC GAMES, DEC. 28-JAN. 3

For the first time since the wheel was invented, a title took the No. 1 spot away from Broderbund's [BROD] dynamic duo, Riven and Myst. And it took a proven winner from Activision [ATVI] to do it. Quake II has been climbing steadily over the past few weeks, perhaps an indication that there is still a place for good ol' fashioned blood and gore at the top. Mindscape's Lego Island, Mattel's [MAT] Barbie Magic Hair Styler and LucasArts' Jedi Knight: Dark Forces II dropped from the chart. (PC Data, Ann Stephens, president, 703/435-1025)
